Jim -

Let's pencil in the two days in Oct. Once you know which day you will meet with the city, we will confirm the exact day. Sorry this has involved so much back-and-forth communication. I really appreciate your help and patience!

Christine,

Agree. If we can schedule the tour in the first week in October, we can do it the day before, or the day after the BCT. That is much better for our travel budget. I can definitely say Tuesday or Thursday that week. But standby on the specific date since now the City meeting is being rescheduled, and could be that week, so it might be one of those days but definitely will leave one day open that week for the tour.

(If it turns out we can do the tour on Thursday October 8th, the Blue Angels will be flying in the afternoon over TI.)

I already cancelled the tour for the 17th. I think it may make sense to go w/ the first week of Oct since you'll be here anyway. What do you think?

The City just cancelled the meeting on the 17th. Not for sure yet, but I'm going to try to get travel approval for the 17th for the tour. I should know today.

My meeting with the City is on the 17th from 10:30am to 12:30, probably at City Hall. So the 17th won't work. How about Friday the 18th? (It would be difficult for me to get travel approval for separate trips for Tuesday and Thursday, or for a Tuesday/Wednesday/Thursday 3 day trip. Travel is especially sensitive now since we are near the end of the FY and running on empty on our travel budget.)

Or could it be pushed 3 weeks to either the day before, or the day after, our October 7th BCT? At least for me, that would be the ideal solution. I could definitely commit to either October 6th or October 8th right now.

(If there is absolutely no other option, I could try to get travel approval for Tuesday the 15th.)

Hi Jim-

That is the one day of the three that I cannot do it - I have the McClellan BCT in Sacramento. Are the 15th and 17th out at this point? I was thinking probably 10/10:30 am - 12 pm, with lunch at 12.

The audience is EPA admin staff - they like to visit a local site once a year as their "retreat." I think they visited Treasure Island years ago and have also visited Alameda.

Christine,

I have confirmation on my meeting with the City on Thursday the 17th at 10:30am.

Is EPA available for next Wednesday the 16th for the tour? That day would work perfect. I'm flexible on the time. I would fly in Wednesday morning and be on the island by about 9:30am. We can start the tour anytime after that.

What I need to know:

1. What time you want to start, and how long you want the tour? We can easily do 2 hours with stops. I don't know when the Culinary School lunch starts, it might be right at noon or very close to that.
2. Who is the tour audience and what would they like to know? We can mix a combination of island history and CERCLA cleanup. If Pete is available, I can have him hop on for Site 12.

Let me know if Wednesday the 16th will work, otherwise we'll figure something else out.

Christine,

Ok. I have not yet heard from the City to confirm a meeting date with them next week. Then I'll know which day I'm free to be at TI. I'll let you know as soon as I know. I'm here in the San Diego office all this week.

We have an 11 passenger GSA van so there is plenty of room for the tour.

Hi Jim-

Thank you so much for your response. Please let me know if the 15th or 17th works for you. There would be seven people, including me. They are going to arrange lunch with the culinary school - great suggestion!

Christine,

In case we don't get to talk right away, here is some info:

1. Not absolutely for sure yet, but I will be at Treasure Island during the week of September 14th, most likely on Tues, Weds, Thurs the 15th, 16th or 17th. (After that, I would not be back until the BCT meeting in October.)
2. One of those September days, I would be in a meeting with the City, probably from 10:30 am to 12:30 am, so my availability on that specific day, which has yet to be determined, would probably not be until 1:30 or so. What time of day were you thinking for a tour?
3. But I could be available any time of the day, the day before, or the day after the meeting with the City. If it is not on a Friday, Pete would be available to take us through active work at Site 32 and Site 12; on Fridays Shaw is not usually on site.

4. I will probably know by Tuesday the 8th or Wednesday the 9th which days I will be at Treasure Island during the week of the 14th.

5. You could pencil in the 15th, 16th or 17th as potential tour dates.

6. How many people would this involve? We have an 11 or 12 passenger GSA van on site, and Shaw has other vans.

7. As another consideration, the Dept of Labor's Job Corps Center at TI has a Culinary Arts School that serves a fixed price lunch most weekdays at approximately 12 noon as part of their training. If it was available, that would be a unique lunch treat that most people don't get to experience at TI. Otherwise, there is the café near the Marina.

I'm in the office all day everyday in September except for the TI trip.
